Antioch Track Squad Wins Triangular Meet in School's Best Year

Stars to Enter District Meet Saturday at Evanston; Beat Grant High

Antioch Township High school track squad experiencing its greatest season continued to pile up victories over the week.

A three-way meet at Palatine last Thursday with Bensenville as the other opponent resulted in a decisive victory for the Sequoits. The score was Antioch 78, Palatine 53, and Bensenville 12.

Dan Jones and Mattson boys, Kenneth and Leonard combined with January to take firsts in eight of the 12 events and the Sequoits won the relay. "It was a good meet," said Coach Kruzan.

Kruzan plans to send four of the squad to Evanston Saturday to take part in the district meet.

Dan Jones will be entered in the pole vault and high hurdles; Kenneth Mattson in the broad-jump, Leonard Mattson in the 440, and Kuligowski in the discus.

Coach Kruzan believes that Jones and Leonard Mattson are good enough to qualify for the state meet the following week.

The Sequoits on the basis of past performances should win the conference meet at Palatine next Wednesday evening. All schools are entering at least a few representatives and the meet will be judged on the basis of squad performance.

Underclassmen who will form next year's squad took on Grant Township High School last evening in a dual meet and won 56 to 33.

The bill is one of six now awaiting action in the state assembly, the total of which amounts to $950,000.

Keller's bill would authorize the State Department of Conservation to develop the park through the construction of barracks, lodges, boats, tables, and other equipment for picnicking, camping, fishing and hunting.

The artists were obtained by Adam Dick, program chairman through John Benson. Outstanding among them was Lillian Altheim, lyric soprano, who sang several selections from light opera. Dick Vernon as master of ceremonies, produced one round of laughter after another.

Wm. Weber, president, had charge of the short business session in which Paul Sheldon, retiring president, was presented a cup for his loyalty and service to the club. Announcement was made that the club's third annual carnival and auction would take place July 3, 4, 5, and 6 at the Lake Villa park.

Next Week Set Aside For "Housecleaning" in Village of Antioch

Through request of citizens the "town housecleaning" will be carried over into next week, William Thiemann, street superintendent has announced.

From Monday through Friday the street department will gather up all material placed at curbing and dispose of it. Assisting in the work of collecting will be Fred Peterson of the police department.

Last Monday was first set aside as Cleanup Day but the response was light. Thiemann is hoping that residents will not forget the plan and will take advantage of the opportunity to get rid of junk and other unwanted materials at no cost.

The fire department officials are interested in the success of the cleanup campaign because it is refuse and other stored materials in attics and little used rooms that form fire hazards.

Herman Cubbon Injured In Fall

Herman Cubbon is in Victory Memorial hospital suffering from injuries received yesterday afternoon when he fell from a ladder while removing storm windows from the second story of his house at 443 Lake street.

The Antioch Rescue squad was summoned and gave first aid treatment after which they took him to the Waukegan hospital.

Antioch Is the Only Suburban Exchange Still Strike-Bound

Only Ten Operators Back On Job Despite Union O. K.

Antioch exchange of the Illinois Bell Telephone company is still operating on an emergency basis today, due to failure of operators to report for work despite an O. K. from union headquarters to cross picket lines of the striking Western Electric workers. The union decree was not an order to go back on the job, but simply an assurance to the operators that no union action would be taken against them if they wished to report for work.

Highland Park operators, one of the very last groups in the state to resume work, reported for duty this morning and service there is on a normal basis.

John Littler, area manager for the company, said today that about ten of the thirty-six operators employed at the Antioch exchange were back at the boards, but that more help would be required before regular service could be resumed. He said that he could supply no reason as to why the local operators did not follow the lead of the hundreds of operators in offices all over the state, and added that all calls would continue on an "emergency or at least urgent" basis.

It is believed that more and more operators will report for duty each day and that it will be a matter of days before the ban on non-emergency calls can be lifted.

A brother of Gramel, John Gramel, living at Kenosha arranged for his burial. Grekoskas had no family.

Buddy Poppy Day Will Be Observed in Antioch Saturday by V. F. W.

The hand that rocks the cradle, will rule the sale of Buddy Poppies just as it ruled the world when the Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars on May 17 sell the little red Buddy Poppies, to raise funds to commemorate the war dead and aid their living comrades in need.

Commander Robert Strang of the Antioch V. F. W. post today praised the faithful work of the women and girls of the Auxiliary who he said are as loyal helping in the annual Buddy Poppy sale as they were in awaiting the return of their dear ones from wars on foreign shores. As in posts all over the country the V. F. W. Ladies Auxiliary will sell the Poppies, Mrs. Zimmerman is the local chairman.

Every year for a quarter of a century patients in government hospitals have been making the little red memorial flowers, each of which carries a copyright label guaranteeing its authenticity. The patients are paid for their labor by the V. F. W. The remainder of the funds collected from the poppy sale is used entirely for the care and welfare of veterans and servicemen and wives and children.

Mrs. Zimmerman, discussing the forthcoming Buddy Poppy sale here, emphasized it as an opportunity to every man, woman and child to contribute to the welfare and assistance of former servicemen who gave so much that America might continue its way of living—in peace and happiness.

There will be ladies selling Buddy Poppies in Lake Villa and Antioch.

Antioch Grade School Seeks Tax Increase at Referendum on May 31

One-tenth Mill More Needed To Prevent Deficit Next Year

Voters of Antioch Consolidated School District No. 34 will be asked to come to the aid of the Antioch grade school financially on Saturday, May 31, through a referendum granting a one-tenth mill tax increase.

Faced with a $6,500 shortage next Spring owing to rising costs, the school board is having to do what other school authorities are having to do in the county, ask residents to tax themselves just a little more.

The Antioch school, like other schools, is caught in the limits of the Butler bill which prevents more than a 5 per cent increase in any one year.

"We hoped there would be a way out," said Principal Richard Whitacre, speaking for the board, "but the way simply isn't there."

The demand for better transportation, better buses, the liability of increases in salaries over and above the present amounts, all are in the picture for next year and must be anticipated, the school authorities said.

The voters will be voting on an increase of .97 per cent. Formerly 1.45 per cent, the amount would have been 1.85 were the Butler bill not in effect so as to have the amount through increase in valuation.

"If we want to keep our schools up-to-date and modern we will have to meet rising costs," Principal Whitacre said. "I hope the people of the district will realize our situation and come to our rescue."

Voting will be at the grade school building from noon until 7 p. m. Central Standard Time.

Antioch Rescue Squad Gives Aid in Accidents Over Saturday, Sunday

Starting with last Saturday when they rushed to Waukegan and assisted in the recovery of a youth drowned in Lake Michigan, the Antioch Rescue squad put in a busy weekend.

Charles Larsen, new second lieutenant on the squad is receiving the plaudits of his colleagues for his work in recovering the body of 13-year-old Robert Barrett, son of Mrs. Helen Barrett of Waukegan, who was drowned when the boat from which he and a companion were fishing capsized. His companion was able to swim and reach land.

The squad took the small son of Joe Fernandez of Trevor, Wis. to St. Therese hospital, Waukegan after the boy suffered a broken leg in a fall from a horse near Grass lake. The youth was first treated by Dr. Irving L. Breakstone and then taken to the hospital.

Another call was when Todd Tinker of Main st. fell from his bed in what was at first thought to be a heart attack. He had regained consciousness by the time the squad arrived and it is believed he may just have been in a deep sleep.

The squad was called Sunday evening to administer aid at the auto accident in which Stanley Grekoskas was killed and William Gramel, also of Lake Villa, was so badly injured that he died Tuesday.

Louis Milfen 53, of Forest Park, suffered a heart attack Sunday evening while visiting his son at Beach Grove. The Rescue squad aided Dr. R. D. Williams in caring for him until he was taken to Victory Memorial hospital.

Wages Result From Profits

L. Robert Driver, a New York tax consultant who was formerly connected with the U. S. Treasury and the Securities and Exchange Commission, has a brief article on the editorial page of the Saturday Evening Post of May 3 which should be read by everyone with an interest in the economic structure of this country.

Mr. Driver's article is entitled "You Don't Get Wages Out of Losses," and deals with the relationship between industrial profits and industrial wages. The key paragraph says, "The question is this: What would have been the gain to labor if all industrial profits were applied to wages, assuming that wiping out the whole profit economy could produce any gain at all? Here is one answer: If, in 1944 and 1945, the compensation of employees had been increased by an amount equal to the income of all incorporated businesses, all interest paid or accrued and all rents and royalties, their compensation for those years would have been increased by 17.7 per cent and 18.17 per cent respectively. Such action would have meant the bankruptcy of thousands of corporations and would have left millions of people, insurance companies and charitable and educational institutions with no income at all. Furthermore, the taxes paid on dividends and other so-called unearned income would have to be paid exclusively by wage earners."

What this means is that wages account for the lion's share of the income of American business—while profits account for a relatively small share. And there could be no such thing as wages without profit, because there would be no business to provide employment. As Mr. Driver observes at the end, "Wage income rises as profits rise. In a free economy it can't happen any other way."

Rail Rates Must Be Coordinated

Efforts to apply the Sherman Antitrust Act to the railroad industry, and thus make illegal the long-established system of ratemaking now in effect, would create chaos in transportation if successful.

The railroads are obviously not comparable to unregulated industry, to control which the antitrust laws were passed many years ago. The railroads operate under the regulation of the Interstate Commerce Commission. This body must approve, after the most exhaustive hearings, any projected change in the rate structure. It lays down rigid standards of operation to which all the railroads must conform. Its objective, in which it has been manifestly successful, is to guarantee to the public excellent and inclusive railroad service, both passenger and freight, at an equitable rate.

Collaboration in ratemaking—under ICC regulation—is essential to the efficient operation of the railroads—and to the protection of shippers. The case of sugar is a simple and typical example. The key rate in the sugar rate structure is that from New Orleans to Chicago. That rate cannot be changed without affecting refiners of sugar of different origins in Michigan, California, and the mountain states. The rates are obviously related—and obviously must be coordinated. This is what the railroads have done under the Interstate Commerce Act. And it is among the things they would be prevented from doing if subjected to the full force of the Sherman Act.

The solution is early passage by Congress of the Reed-Bulwinkle measure, which has been given virtually unanimous approval by all interested parties. This law would make Congress' intentions clear, and perpetuate a proven ratemaking system. The ICC would remain in complete control. It is necessary to the smooth operation of an industrial economy which is dependent on the railroads.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Well folks, I am coming out for another kind of week. I am calling it, "Be calm and don't listen too serious" week. Away back there in Egypt, they were pestered with locusts, but here in our land-of-the-free it is spellbinders. We have an excess of folks wearing nice clothes and eating regular via sponsoring some new kind of social uplift or Govt. fummiddles. And recent like the big commotion is about how the Govt. must build grander dams and light plants. And a private U. S. A. citizen willing to take a chance with his own money, he is told to stand aside—if anybody is to lose any dinero, it is gonna be Uncle Sambo. A private citizen, he is not even free to lose his own money—legally. Freedom, pardner, where is the old gal?

My "don't listen too serious" week, it looks like it is helping and we get a little time to think on our own hook, we could maybe branch out and extend it to 2 weeks or maybe 3. And as we calm down we will find time maybe to drop a card to our boys down there in Congress and inquire about how come they are so slow about taking the racket out of labor, or how about lightening up a little down at the income tax place.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

MR. & MRS. CONSUMER

You would foot the bill!

Look out! There's another big railroad wage demand headed your way!

The non-operating unions alone—whose members do not actually operate trains—are demanding a flat increase of 20 cents an hour. These demands would cost the railroads of the country five hundred sixty-eight million dollars a year!

Last year these employees had an increase of 18 1/4 cents an hour. This was their third major wage increase since 1939. Their average weekly pay has gone up 75%, as against a cost-of-living rise of 54%.

Since 1939, railroad wage and material costs have gone up more than three times as much as freight rates, and five times as much as passenger fares. That is why in 1946, with the largest peacetime traffic in history, the net income of railroads went down to the equivalent of only 2 1/4% of the net property investment.

What About 1947?

Even with the recent freight rate increase, preliminary figures indicate that the railroads will make only about the same low return in 1947 as in 1946. This will be because:

—the wage increase made in 1946 will be in effect for all of 1947;

—special payroll taxes on railroads have recently been increased;

—and passenger traffic has declined.

Wages Result From Profits

L. Robert Driver, a New York tax consultant who was formerly connected with the U. S. Treasury and the Securities and Exchange Commission, has a brief article on the editorial page of the Saturday Evening Post of May 3 which should be read by everyone with an interest in the economic structure of this country.

Mr. Driver's article is entitled "You Don't Get Wages Out of Losses," and deals with the relationship between industrial profits and industrial wages. The key paragraph says, "The question is this: What would have been the gain to labor if all industrial profits were applied to wages, assuming that wiping out the whole profit economy could produce any gain at all? Here is one answer: If, in 1944 and 1945, the compensation of employees had been increased by an amount equal to the income of all incorporated businesses, all interest paid or accrued and all rents and royalties, their compensation for those years would have been increased by 17.7 per cent and 18.17 per cent respectively. Such action would have meant the bankruptcy of thousands of corporations and would have left millions of people, insurance companies and charitable and educational institutions with no income at all. Furthermore, the taxes paid on dividends and other so-called unearned income would have to be paid exclusively by wage earners."

What this means is that wages account for the lion's share of the income of American business—while profits account for a relatively small share. And there could be no such thing as wages without profit, because there would be no business to provide employment. As Mr. Driver observes at the end, "Wage income rises as profits rise. In a free economy it can't happen any other way."

Rail Rates Must Be Coordinated

Efforts to apply the Sherman Antitrust Act to the railroad industry, and thus make illegal the long-established system of ratemaking now in effect, would create chaos in transportation if successful.

The railroads are obviously not comparable to unregulated industry, to control which the antitrust laws were passed many years ago. The railroads operate under the regulation of the Interstate Commerce Commission. This body must approve, after the most exhaustive hearings, any projected change in the rate structure. It lays down rigid standards of operation to which all the railroads must conform. Its objective, in which it has been manifestly successful, is to guarantee to the public excellent and inclusive railroad service, both passenger and freight, at an equitable rate.

Collaboration in ratemaking—under ICC regulation—is essential to the efficient operation of the railroads—and to the protection of shippers. The case of sugar is a simple and typical example. The key rate in the sugar rate structure is that from New Orleans to Chicago. That rate cannot be changed without affecting refiners of sugar of different origins in Michigan, California, and the mountain states. The rates are obviously related—and obviously must be coordinated. This is what the railroads have done under the Interstate Commerce Act. And it is among the things they would be prevented from doing if subjected to the full force of the Sherman Act.

The solution is early passage by Congress of the Reed-Bulwinkle measure, which has been given virtually unanimous approval by all interested parties. This law would make Congress' intentions clear, and perpetuate a proven ratemaking system. The ICC would remain in complete control. It is necessary to the smooth operation of an industrial economy which is dependent on the railroads.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Well folks, I am coming out for another kind of week. I am calling it, "Be calm and don't listen too serious" week. Away back there in Egypt, they were pestered with locusts, but here in our land-of-the-free it is spellbinders. We have an excess of folks wearing nice clothes and eating regular via sponsoring some new kind of social uplift or Govt. fummididdles. And recent like the big commotion is about how the Govt. must build grander dams and light plants. And a private U. S. A. citizen willing to take a chance with his own money, he is told to stand aside—if anybody is to lose any dinero, it is gonna be Uncle Sambo. A private citizen, he is not even free to lose his own money—legally. Freedom, pardner, where is the old gal?

My "don't listen too serious" week, it looks like it is helping and we get a little time to think on our own hook, we could maybe branch out and extend it to 2 weeks or maybe 3. And as we calm down we will find time maybe to drop a card to our boys down there in Congress and inquire about how come they are so slow about taking the racket out of labor, or how about lightening up a little down at the income tax place.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

Unit of Education Group Hears Address by Zion Superintendent Tuesday

Antioch was host Tuesday evening to Section 1, Unit 2, of the Lake Shore division of the Illinois Education association.

Charles Newenham, assistant county superintendent, and newly elected superintendent of the Zion public schools, was the speaker, discussing the various education bills now before the state legislature. He was introduced by Principal Richard Whitacre, delegate.

The fact that Gov. Green did not include in his budget items proposed for the improvement of education left the group pessimistic.

Officers were chosen for next year. Mrs. V. Ranney of Hickory Grove who is to be in Antioch next year, was chosen as the delegate to the North Shore assembly, and Mrs. Fern Lux was selected as alternate. Mrs. Hester Garland will be secretary-treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Viezens of Antioch, with 66 years of married life were credited with being the longest-married couple at the pre-Mother's Day party given by the Chamber of Commerce in Waukegan Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Viezens, couple in the center, posed with Mrs. Virgil Miller (left) mother of the most children—19, and Mrs. Minnie Treptow (right) of Libertyville, who at 98 was acknowledged as the oldest mother in the county. The party was given at the Masonic Temple and those honored received many gifts from Waukegan merchants.

Woman Leaps 8 Floors;Hits Auto; Tells of Fall

SANTIAGO, CHILE. — Olga Leiva, 25, a dressmaker, leaped from the eighth floor of the Central building here and hit the top of an auto owned by the minister of health. She remained conscious and told of her experience as she was taken to a hospital, where doctors said she probably would live.

Guzzling Ghost Is Now Without HomeHis Taste for Beer at Midnight Disturbed Travelers.

KUMBA, CAMEROONS, EAST AFRICA. — The ghost with a taste for beer, which had been disturbing travelers for nearly 30 years, has been left homeless by demolition of an old rest house here.

Tradition had it that the ghost was the restless spirit of a former German district officer, notorious for the iron hand with which he ruled the people of the Cameroons.

Known before World War I as the Johann Albrechtshof station, the haunted house served as the Prussian-like officer's quarters, district office and military barracks.

It was built 1,200 feet above sea level, on the lip of a drowned volcano crater, with a wide lake 300 feet below.

In more recent years, the building was turned into a resthouse for visiting government officials.

But so many visitors were badly frightened by the creaks and groans of the ancient timbers that the place received a bad name.

It was said that the only way to get a good night's sleep was to place a bottle of beer and a glass on a tray shortly before midnight. This seemed to satisfy the thirsty ghost, for he left the occupiers in peace.

In the morning, according to the story, the bottle was found empty, the glass encrusted with dried froth. Skeptics who had never spent a night in the haunted house had amusing explanations for consumption of the unguarded bottle of beer.

They never could, however, explain why the cap was always still gripped firmly around the neck of the bottle, and never showed any evidence of being touched with an opener.

Mississippi Flood Help Is Authorized by U. S. Army

WASHINGTON. — Gen. Jacob L. Devers authorized emergency relief measures by army troops in the event of floods or threatened flood disaster in the Mississippi valley.

The ground forces commander authorized commanders of the 2nd, 4th, 5th and 7th armies to work directly with the president of the Mississippi river commission on arrangements for use of army troops and supplies during flood emergencies.

Under current plans, the army commanders would provide troops suitable for flood fighting duty, levee maintenance, protection and security measures, signal communication equipment and personnel, and all available vehicles, equipment and supply from army stocks as might be required.

The Mississippi river commission president is the army engineer officer in charge of the lower Mississippi river division.

Army troops also were used in Washington state to combat flood conditions.

Pilot Saves Airliner AfterIt Strikes Tree, 45 Escape

MOBILE, ALA. — A Pan-American Airways DC-4 passenger plane, which struck a tree in an attempt to land at New Orleans, made an emergency landing here.

Some 45 persons were said to have been aboard the plane when it was brought down here shortly after 1 a. m. None was reported injured.

The craft, arriving at New Orleans from Balboa, Canal Zone, came to Mobile on three engines after damaging its left outboard engine at New Orleans where bad weather prevented a landing.

Two Robbers Make Off With$250, Miss $50,000 Parcel

CHICAGO. — A $250 robbery went off without a hitch but the robbers passed up $50,000.

Two men entered a branch office of the American Express agency and cowed Mrs. Theresa Marchetti, manager, and James Murton, company agent.

They tied both with clothes line and cleaned out the cash register. But they left without searching their victims. Murton had been delivering a supply of travelers' checks to branch offices and had $50,000 worth in his pocket.

CHICAGO. — Ruth Fagan, lingerie shop employee, wept when a young robber ordered her to "give me all the money in your cash register."

Miss Fagan handed him $11 and sobbed. "That's all I took today."

The man looked at his loot, then said gruffly, "Take it back, you need it worse than I do."

HOW CALF LOSSES CAN BE AVOIDED

American farmers are losing many more calves than they need to. In fact, today's annual total of calf deaths could be reduced sharply if every owner would follow a few established principles of breeding, management, feeding and sanitation.

On the breeding side of the picture, the first step is to make sure of parent stock that is vigorous and disease-free. Bang's disease leaves a heavy toll on our calf crop, and all breeding stock should be brucellosis-tested.

After sound breeding, the next step is proper nutrition for the cow. She needs abundant, balanced rations to produce a healthy calf, and such rations must include good legume hay and adequate Vitamin A.

At the time the calf is born, cleanliness and sanitation are important in giving it the right start. The maternity stall should be clean, well-ventilated, dry, and adequately bedded.

After this, common calfhood diseases such as scours and pneumonia are among the chief threats. White scours is one of the worst hazards. This disease generally attacks calves less than five days old, and is caused by a germ commonly found in many farm buildings. HEALTH HINTS for LIVESTOCK

PREPARED BY AMERICAN FOUNDATION FOR ANIMAL HEALTH

IS A NEW WAVE OF CHOLERA ON THE WAY

It may be bad news for farmers, but the fact is that livestock health authorities are now predicting another sharp upswing in hog cholera losses—perhaps this year, perhaps next, but certainly in the very near future.

other sharp upswing in hog cholera losses—perhaps this year, perhaps next, but certainly in the very near future.

The reason for these predictions is the fact that cholera, for over 100 years, has shown a history of recurring in cycles. For the last few years it has been on the down-grade. Losses have still amounted to something like $20,000,000 annually, and it still remains the nation's worst swine killer. Of course, compared with the peak-cycle losses, we have been comparatively "lucky" recently. But now, charted on a year-by-year basis, the serious upswing in the cholera cycle seems long overdue.

The question is—What should the average swine raiser do about it? Vigilance is probably the best answer. That means that every pig on the farm should be vaccinated against cholera as soon as possible, around weaning time. It also means that when suspicious symptoms appear—aplasia, or some other disease, cholera should first be suspected and a veterinary diagnosis should be obtained. As a safety measure, there is no "cure" for cholera, once it strikes. The only safety lies in preventive vaccination, before an outbreak occurs.

"OUR time is a very shadow that passeth away." So said Solomon. The Veterans of Foreign Wars recognizes this truth and dedicates its entire energies to make OUR TIME a time of Peace on Earth. Good Will toward men.

Silenced is mortal combat. And those who returned, now veterans, are solid citizens blazing their paths in this postwar world. But there ARE those who need help. So in this year of the 26th Annual Buddy Poppy sale, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States asks all Americans to join in reaffirming the V. F. W. pledge to "Honor the dead by helping the living." Never has that pledge had more significance. Never have the people of the United States been more aware of veterans' welfare. We shall dispel the lurking shadows which threaten those who were wounded mentally or physically, their widows and their orphans.

In 1946, more than 15 million Americans pinned Buddy Poppies on their spring dresses and suits. All collections were made by volunteer workers. Every sale was clearly ear-marked for:

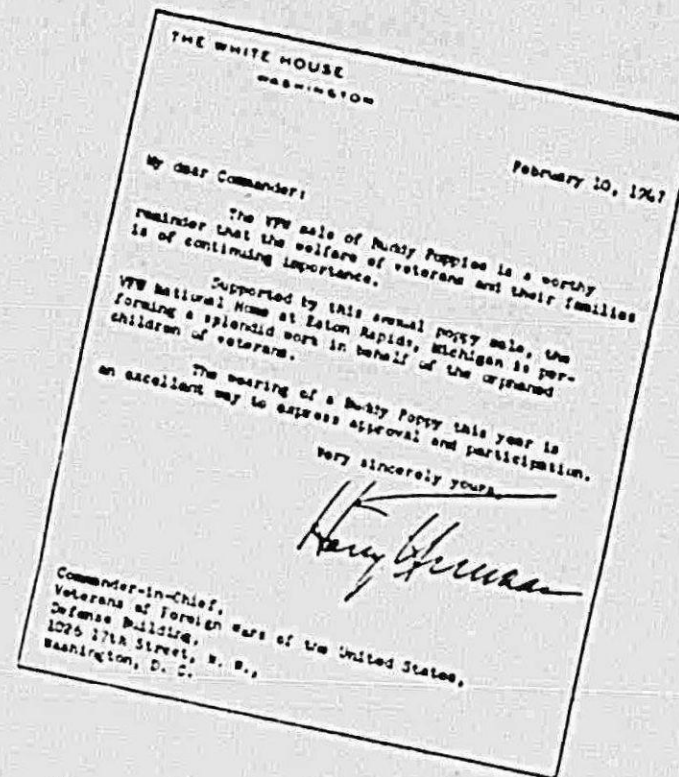

- (1) The relief of disabled needy veterans and their dependents.
- (2) Orphans of veterans in the V. F. W. National Home, Eaton Rapids, Michigan.
- (3) Rehabilitation services for veterans in their dealings with the Veterans Administration.
- (4) Hospitalization expenses for non-compensated veterans.
- (5) An emergency fund for use in the event of national disaster.

This year there are more living veterans of all wars than there were Buddy Poppies sold last year. Since V-E Day, over 14 million men of World War II have become veterans. There are also some 3 million veterans of World War I, Spanish-American War, and Civil War. You honor each and every one of these heroes when you wear a Buddy Poppy.

So America's traditional "Flower of Remembrance," the Buddy Poppy of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is an accepted symbol of our loyalty to those who, emerging from the shadows, bravely face physical and economic handicaps.

Be fashionable, and patriotic, too. Wear a Buddy Poppy proudly. Your contribution for a Buddy Poppy will be a lasting, living tribute to our war wounded, their widows and their orphans.

Look at Your Buick —everybody else does!

Mighty fine car you've got there, sir! Mighty good-looking too—probably draws admiring glances everywhere you go.

Are you keeping it smart and handsome and shining as it should be?

A big step in the right direction is Porcelainizing. It's the latest in car polishing—a power-buffed finish that glazes the paint to a smooth glistening luster—burnishing and polishing the surface until it becomes slick and smooth enough to prevent the ready accumulation of road grime and dirt.

Buick engineers recommend it. Also the procedure our men follow. Try it—to keep a new car lustrous longer—and give older ones a new lease on good looks.

Chicago Resident Dies While Motoring Near This Village Last Week

Albert E. Gannon, 62, of 1528 N. Monitor ave., Chicago, was stricken with a heart attack while motoring near Antioch last Thursday and died before medical aid reached him.

Gannon and a companion, James J. Brandt, 1321 N. Mason ave., Chicago, had both been told by Dr. John A. Rose, Chicago physician who has a farm near Camp Lake, Wis., that they had heart disease and that he didn't know which one would go first, and that either would likely go any minute.

They disregarded the warning and on Thursday, the next day, they drove to Dr. Rose's farm. Death overtook Gannon enroute.

The funeral service for Gannon, a chauffeur for the Peoples Gas, Light and Coke Co. was held in Chicago.

Legion Softball Team Will Open League Play Here Thursday, June 5

The Baseball season will open in Antioch Thursday, June 5, when the American Legion Softball team takes the field at the high school diamond in the first game of the Lake Region Baseball league.

The opponent will be decided next Wednesday when managers will meet at Round Lake to make out the season's schedule.

Rain has interfered with practice, but the players are being called together for intensive drill starting next Monday evening and continuing nightly throughout the week. Practice will start at 6:30 p. m. and in some instances will continue under lights.

Ed Frazier, Dale Rockow and Bernice Snyder who are in charge of plans, say that they expect all of last year's team to be back except Ray Pickus who will play AA ball with the Moline club. There will be several new faces on the squad and the management is seeking additional material.

There will be special practice Sunday, May 18 at 2 p. m. at the school, also a practice Monday, Rockow said.

Six Foxes Killed Last Sunday at White Farm

Home White reported that six foxes were shot Sunday on the White farm southeast of Antioch and east of Loon Lake. Two thousand gallons of water were poured into two fox holes and the six foxes came out a third hole in direct range of the guns.

The two White families gather at the farm each Mother's Day and the men enjoy a fox hunt. Last year they killed three foxes on Mother's Day.
